NOTICES RECEIVED ON 20 JUNE 1996

178. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer, in regard to the Government's position on the use of prepayment meters by electricity consumers, will he provide the House with details relating to the following:
1. Whether the Government supports the use of prepayment meters for domestic electricity consumers; if so, what process will the Government use to allow prepayment meters.
  2. How will prepayment meter customers be able to access the competitive market after the year 2000.
  3. How will prepayment meter households, eligible for concession, be able to access the Energy Relief Grants Scheme and the Winter Energy Concession.

4. What concession will these consumers receive for prepaying their bill rather than paying after consumption as do all other electricity consumers.
5. Whether the Government will ensure that consumers do not have to pay for their prepayment meters and that they will not be compulsory for customers who do not pay promptly.
6. What role will the Regulator General play in this process.

179. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer, in regard to the setting of tariff levels, will the Treasurer provide the House with details relating to the following:

1. What was the bad debt level of the pre-reform SECV.
2. How is bad debt to be factored into the tariff and charge setting process by the Regulator General.
3. Whether the utilities have introduced an interest rate penalty in the new round of contestable customer contracts, to improve cash flow.
4. What proportion of the latest tranche of contestable customers do not have an appropriate meter to record their energy demand and consumption as well as the losses that they incur on the power quality which is paid by the franchised customers.
5. What is the relationship between bad debt and finalised accounts and how many finalised accounts of the electricity retailers contribute to utility bad debt.
6. What money, if any, has the Regulator General spent on consultancies to allocate costs in deciding the levels of flow on of cost to consumers.
7. What policy, if any, has the Regulator General made on the imposition of security deposits on customers.
8. How will the Regulator General determine equity in this situation.
9. Whether consumers are finding out about utility policy changes before or after they are implemented; if so, how.

180. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer, in regard to quality of supply in the electricity industry, will the Treasurer provide to the House all details of work that the Government has, is, or will commission to define, monitor and assess quality of supply.

181. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer, in regard to Energy Relief grants by the utilities, whether he will provide details of expenditure by Government Departments on energy relief grants for each year since 1990/91, indicating the split between service delivery costs and grants to consumers.

182. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer, whether he will provide details of the outcome of the consultancy commissioned by the Government to review the Energy Relief Grants Scheme and concessions, including details of the involvement of the welfare industry.

183. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer, in regard to ensuring energy efficiently in Victoria, whether he will provide details of spending by the Government for each year since it came to office, on encouraging energy efficiency and reducing greenhouse gas emissions.
184. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer, in regard to ensuring energy efficiency in Victoria, whether he will provide details on the following:
1. How is the Government going to encourage energy efficiency when the Distribution of System Charges, the VP and Transmission Use of System Charges are all flat rate charges.
  2. How will reduction in consumption be achieved when for every extra unit of energy sold the suppliers of infrastructure gain most of the price in profit once their fixed cost are covered.
  3. Why should a distribution company sell off peak electricity when it can get far higher revenue for on peak energy sales because of the substantial variation between the on and off peak Distribution Use of System charges for consumers.
  4. What effect is the failure to promote off peak electricity sales going to have on Victoria's ability to meet the greenhouse gas emission reduction targets.
  5. Whether the Treasurer can explain how he expects there to be substantial competition in the electricity industry when most of the costs are tied in fixed charges to customers.
  6. What percentage of the current round of contestable customers have accepted offers from the retail licence holders.
  7. How many customers have signed contracts with retail licence holders who do not own a distribution company.

NEW QUESTIONS

NOTICES RECEIVED ON 31 OCTOBER 1996

188. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer:
1. What system is in place to prevent a distribution company from using a lower Distribution Use of System (DUOS) charge to retain a non franchised customer from the predation of another independent retail licence holder.
  2. Whether the Regulator General has received any complaints in regard to variation in DUOS charges from any retail licence holders other than the parent distribution company retail operation or from any customer who has been offered a variation in DUOS charges from different retailers.

189. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer:

1. Who has the responsibility to ensure that the competition conditions provided for in the Pool Rules and System Code are adhered to at all times.
2. Whether any complaints have been received and investigated; if so, how many.
3. Whether the Victorian Power Exchange (VPX) has responsibility in ensuring that there are similar uniform charges to similar contestable customers.
4. Whether businesses from the 1996 tranche of contestable customers have opted to trade independently, as distinct from accepting the default tariffs offered by their pre-franchise supplier; if so, how many.
5. What percentage of contestable customers from the last tranche of customers still remain on the default tariffs provided by the relevant pre-franchise supplier.
6. How many high voltage customers protected to the year 2000 have opted to become contestable and how many of these customers are trading in their own right.
7. What are the access rules for retail licence holders to access contestable customer information.
8. What information is being made available to retail licence holders on request to - (a) the Regulator General; (b) VPX; and (c) distribution companies.
9. What mechanisms are in place to protect the retail licence holders who do not own a twenty percent interest in a power station.

190. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer:

1. What response has the Victorian government made to the New South Wales legislation in regard to restricting the sale of energy into the New South Wales market from environmentally inefficient power stations.
2. When are the distribution company owners going to separate their accounts into energy costs and fixed asset costs and where the information is publically available to assess the performances.

191. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer, in view of the draft Victorian Power Exchange Annual Planning Review 1996 indicating that the move towards the national east coast market increases the potential for protection problems, dynamic and transient instability problems and frequency variation between the South Australian, Victorian and New South Wales interconnectors, switching yards, capacitors and transformers involved in the transfers between the states, what program and expenditure has been proposed to minimise these problems.

192. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer, whether Victorian energy consumers should pay for Value of Loss of Load (VoLL), brought about by interstate trading as an end in itself and which is distinct from the previous role played by interstate trading, which in the main was the system providing reliability, backup and spinning reserve and further complicated by the fuel supply issues to the gas fired power stations, with some of the proposed reforms to the gas industry inhibiting the role played by gas fired stations in providing a rapid response to changes in energy demand; if so, why.

193. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer:

1. In light of the privatisation of Victoria's electricity industry, what agreements are in place to ensure a co-ordinated response to, and resourcing of, the resumption and making safe of electricity supply to - (a) industry; and (b) domestic customers, following a major bushfire.
2. What level of fire insurance cover has the Government insisted must be met by the privatised electricity distribution companies and Powernet.

  2. (a) What qualifications and experience are required by the VMA when recruiting officers for this type of operation; (b) what training do officers get that equips them for the conduct of covert operations of this nature and whether this training is adequate for the purpose; (c) what checks and balances are in place to ensure that VMA officers do not break the law when carrying out such operations; (d) what reports and briefings take place after such operations and how they are evaluated; (e) what approval is required before such operations take place and whether the Minister is involved in or kept informed of such approvals; and (f) what is the accountability of the VMA to the government and the public in relation to such operations and who monitors the operations of the authority.

186. MR HAERMEYER - To ask the Honourable the Minister for Agriculture and Resources - (a) how the Board and Chief Executive of the Victorian Meat Authority (VMA) are appointed; (b) what the cost of the VMA to Victorian taxpayers has been in each of the past 5 years and what percentage of its budget in each of those years has gone to field operations; and (c) what the results of the VMA's field operations have been over the last 3 years, highlighting its significant achievements.

NOTICES RECEIVED ON 31 OCTOBER 1996

188. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer:
1. What system is in place to prevent a distribution company from using a lower Distribution Use of System (DUOS) charge to retain a non franchised customer from the predation of another independent retail licence holder.
  2. Whether the Regulator General has received any complaints in regard to variation in DUOS charges from any retail licence holders other than the parent distribution company retail operation or from any customer who has been offered a variation in DUOS charges from different retailers.
189. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer:
1. Who has the responsibility to ensure that the competition conditions provided for in the Pool Rules and System Code are adhered to at all times.
  2. Whether any complaints have been received and investigated; if so, how many.
  3. Whether the Victorian Power Exchange (VPX) has responsibility in ensuring that there are similar uniform charges to similar contestable customers.
  4. Whether businesses from the 1996 tranche of contestable customers have opted to trade independently, as distinct from accepting the default tariffs offered by their pre-franchise supplier; if so, how many.
  5. What percentage of contestable customers from the last tranche of customers still remain on the default tariffs provided by the relevant pre-franchise supplier.
  6. How many high voltage customers protected to the year 2000 have opted to become contestable and how many of these customers are trading in their own right.
  7. What are the access rules for retail licence holders to access contestable customer information.

8. What information is being made available to retail licence holders on request to -
(a) the Regulator General; (b) VPX; and (c) distribution companies.
  9. What mechanisms are in place to protect the retail licence holders who do not own a twenty percent interest in a power station.
190. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer:
1. What response has the Victorian government made to the New South Wales legislation in regard to restricting the sale of energy into the New South Wales market from environmentally inefficient power stations.
  2. When are the distribution company owners going to separate their accounts into energy costs and fixed asset costs and where the information is publically available to assess the performances.
191. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer, in view of the draft Victorian Power Exchange Annual Planning Review 1996 indicating that the move towards the national east coast market increases the potential for protection problems, dynamic and transient instability problems and frequency variation between the South Australian, Victorian and New South Wales interconnectors, switching yards, capacitors and transformers involved in the transfers between the states, what program and expenditure has been proposed to minimise these problems.
192. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer, whether Victorian energy consumers should pay for Value of Loss of Load (VoLL), brought about by interstate trading as an end in itself and which is distinct from the previous role played by interstate trading, which in the main was the system providing reliability, backup and spinning reserve and further complicated by the fuel supply issues to the gas fired power stations, with some of the proposed reforms to the gas industry inhibiting the role played by gas fired stations in providing a rapid response to changes in energy demand; if so, why.
193. MR LONEY - To ask the Honourable the Treasurer:
1. In light of the privatisation of Victoria's electricity industry, what agreements are in place to ensure a co-ordinated response to, and resourcing of, the resumption and making safe of electricity supply to - (a) industry; and (b) domestic customers, following a major bushfire.
  2. What level of fire insurance cover has the Government insisted must be met by the privatised electricity distribution companies and Powernet.
