We just wanted to say that we have worked hard since the moment we stepped on Australian soil. We have been good hard working citizens who never took a cent from any government. Now we have been reduced to struggling as our means of income has been taken away, through no fault of our own.

We supported changes being made as we wanted everything to be fair for everyone in the industry, but we never imagined that our licence, and therefore our income, which we had for our retirement, could be taken away. It's akin to the government forcibly purchasing a person's home, at a price that does not reflect its value. The Labor government, and the governments preceding them, but they in particular have made an absolute mess of everything. Prior to the winning the election before last, they lied to our faces and said they would support us and then they turned around and treated us like criminals. That is what we wanted to say.
