• the word is in blue

• we write what the hard word means.

About this book

This book is from a Parliament of Victoria committee.

A committee is a group of people who investigate something.

Investigate means we find out what is happening.

This book is about an investigation into how people with disability access TAFE.

TAFE is where people learn new skills. For example, job skills.

The Department of Education and Training or DET looks after how TAFEs run in Victoria.

Why we investigated

We wanted to know

 why some people with disability do not go to TAFE

 what makes it hard for people with disability to learn at TAFE how to make it easier for people with disability to go to TAFE.

We found some people with disability do not get help to understand their choices after school

apply to go to TAFE

learn at TAFE

• finish their TAFE course.

We found some people with disability feel scared to

• tell TAFE staff about their disability

• ask for help at TAFE.

We also found some TAFEs could give more help to people with disability some TAFE teachers do not know how to help people with disability.

What we think

We think TAFEs should have staff to help people with disability move from school to TAFE make it easy for people with disability to get help give people with disability more help to learn train staff to help people with disability.

We think DET should make clear rules about how TAFEs should help people with disability give extra payments to TAFEs that help people with disability

- get TAFEs to share resources for people with disability
  - for example, information or communication aids.

What will happen next?

We gave our report to DET.

DET has 6 months to tell us what they will do.
